DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 18-23 and 26-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shepherd (USPN 6134536).

Re claims 18-23 and 26-32: Shepherd teaches a computer based system which enables a party and a counter-party to be efficiently matched, comprising a first computer terminal into which the party inputs details of a potential transaction to acquire assets of type A in exchange for assets of type B, a second computer terminal into which a counterparty inputs details of a potential transaction to acquire assets of type C in exchange for assets of type D, a computer network connecting the first and second terminals; characterized in there being a computer program arranged to calculate directly or indirectly using real time pricing data a mid-point price at which type A assets can be obtained in exchange for assets of type B (see at least col. 6, lines 20-24; col. 40, lines 4-11 and lines 46-63; col. 33, lines 16-52 and Figures).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 24-25 and 33-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shepherd in view of Lupien et al (USPN 5845266) (Lupien).

Re claims 24-25 and 33-34: Shepherd does not explicitly teach the step in which a spread is derived using the calculated mid-point. Lupien teaches the step in which a spread is derived using the calculated mid-point (col. 2, lines 38-41). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Shepherd to include this step as taught by Lupien in order to have a spread based on the midpoint.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

a) Wallman (USPN 6601044) teaches a method for enabling individuals to create and manage an asset or liability (see col. 9, lines 45-52; col. 19, lines 30-35).

b) Sandretto (USPN 5812988) discloses a system for jointly estimating cash flows.
